T. P. MERRIAM'S PATENT

Premium Water Proof Composition,

—OR—

OIL OF BARK,

For Blacking and Preserving New, and Renovating Old Leather.

THIS highly approved Oil, or Composition, is now offered to the Public as an article which stands unrivaled as a Leather Preservative, and as a Water Proof Composition, when the Leather is thoroughly saturated or filled. Having received the premiums from the Mechanics' Fair, in Boston, and from the American Institute, in New York, and testimonials from a large number of the best Stable Keepers, Carriage, Harness, Boots and Shoes Manufacturers; also from Tanners, Curriers, and a large number of Gentlemen who have used it,—as being the cleanest, and entirely superior and at least fifty per cent. cheaper, than any article now in use, for Softening, Blacking, Polishing, Strengthening and Preserving Chaise and Carriage Tops, Harnesses, Engine Hose, Fire Buckets, Wheel Belts, Boots, Shoes, Trunks; also, for Renovating the Polish on old Patent Leather, and preventing it from cracking; removing all the gummy substance, fry, blisters, &c. by scraping it with a smooth case knife and sand paper before the leather is dry, leaving it in the same smooth state as it was when new. This Oil leaves the leather in such a smooth state that the dust does not stick to it nor does the water or weather have any effect upon it; preventing Boots, Shoes, &c. from shrinking when wet. This Oil is extensively used for Blacking and Crimping Boots, without the aid of water to the leather, blackening and softening in a delightful manner. Good blacking will bring a much higher polish after this Oil has been applied than before; and for new Boots and Ladies' Kid Shoes, it will

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1843.

FOR PRESIDENT,
HENRY CLAY,
OF KENTUCKY

SEE FIRST PAGE

The extensive system of internal improvements carried on by the British Government, in Canada, begins to attract attention not less on account of the magnitude of the plans and the energy with which they are prosecuted than the influence these improvements are likely to have upon business and the advantages they will confer upon the English arms in case of war.

It is unquestionably true that the improvements in the navigation of the St. Lawrence and the opening of an enormous canal from Lake Erie, together with other improvements are conducted, mainly in a spirit of rivalry with similar improvements in the United States, for the purpose of securing and enlarging the means of commerce. This advancement of civilization and this development of the power of that portion of country and the consequent increase of the comforts of life to the vast population that may thus be drawn thither, are calculated to excite the hopes and increase the joys of the philanthropist. Looking at the subject in a political light it will be seen that the English nation by means of these improvements acquires the power to send, at short notice, as many armed vessels into Lake Erie as she may choose and with a rapidity heretofore unsuspected. It will be in vain for the United States government to think of building and arming vessels upon the Lakes with sufficient rapidity to meet such an armament as may be sent there by the British. This view of the subject is calculated to strengthen the argument for the enlargement of the Erie Canal, but which has received so much opposition of late from the Loco party in New York.

Meeting of Merchants.

An adjourned meeting of the Merchants of this city to take into consideration the subject of forming a Mercantile Association was held at the City Hall last evening. The Committee to whom was referred the subject of proposing a plan of operation and drafting a Constitution, reported progress and asked for an enlargement of the committee and several persons were added making the whole committee to consist of the following persons:

Thomas H. Sandford, James Crosby, Solomon Parsons, George W. Pickering, Jabez True, Joseph Bryant, Waldo T. Peirce, Cyrus Goss, Ephraim Moulton, William H. Dow, Samuel J. Foster, Hayward Peirce, Charles Hayward, Thomas A. White. The meeting adjourned to meet on Thursday evening next.

William L. Mackenzie a few years since a devoted follower and advocate of Martin Van Buren but who has become acquainted with the man and his political principles and abandoned him as base coin, is now about publishing the political life of Van Buren as it is.

He says that a work of this sort, constantly referring to documentary and other evidence and carefully confined to facts, for the truth of which he is held responsible to the legal tribunals of the country, will be much read and quoted, and cannot fail to exercise an influence on the Presidential election next year. Anecdotes and sketches of the characters of prominent politicians of the Albany or Van Buren school will be interspersed throughout. This work will be sold at 37½ cents and should be widely circulated.

William Paine, Esq., will deliver a lecture this evening before the Mechanic Association, at their Hall in Smith's Block. We are requested to state that members of the association with their families and friends are invited to be present. The Hall, as at present fitted up will accommodate a large number of persons, and the association feel desirous of giving the widest extension of its advantages to the Community. Mr. Paine has selected the subject of Historical illustrations of mechanical science and the arts, and his well known ability is a sufficient guaranty for a good lecture.

Court Courier.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The case of Thomas O. Parkman indicted for forging a note against David Davis, after having occupied the Court for almost two days, was on Wednesday forenoon submitted to the jury, who, after being out until midnight, without anything to eat or drink after breakfast until that hour, not being able to agree, were discharged.

This case closes the criminal trials for the term. The indictment against John Godfrey and also for a nuisance in the erection of the dam of the Penobscot Mill Dam Corporation in which a trial has been heretofore had and a verdict of guilty found by the jury, was called up on Wednesday by the Attorney General for judgment. Exceptions were filed in the case at the time of the trial which exceptions were overruled at the last term. A large number of individuals estimated at 200 or 300 at this term presented a written request to the Attorney General to have the matter disposed of without delay and judgment rendered for an abatement of the nuisance by a removal of the dam complained of. The Attorney claiming it as a matter of right that such a judgment should be rendered, the court decided that a fine was the only sentence that would follow as a matter of course in the case, and that judgment for an abatement of the nuisance was a matter of discretion to be exercised by the court. As this was a point on which a large number of witnesses would probably be introduced, a suggestion was made by the court that it would be desirable, if those interested should agree, that commissioners should be appointed to examine into the case and report the facts upon which the court could exercise the discretion over the matter. No agreement of the kind was made and the case now stands for a further hearing in a few days.

Riots among the Firemen—Several Persons Shot!

The Philadelphia correspondent of the New York Tribune under date of Nov. 13th, states that a desperate fight had taken place between some companies of Firemen in that city. The carriage of the Fairmount, about 6 o'clock, had been seized upon by the Good Will, broken up, and thrown into the Schuylkill River. Between 8 and 9, the Fairmount, with a force of several hundred, marched out Race street as far as Schuylkill Fourth, when they were met by the Good Will and Weccacoe, members, who instantly discharged five muskets, loaded with buckshot, at their assailants, wounding several persons, two of them are supposed to be seriously injured. Their names are Henry and Morris, the former shot in the abdomen, the latter in the neck. Clubs, stones, and other deadly weapons were used with frightful violence. The Fairmount were finally overpowered, and obliged to run for their lives. There were several thousand persons concerned in this affair, which continued up to half past ten. Several persons have been arrested and held to bail, and the excitement was very great.

The Adams Sentinel states, that while Judge Buchanan was passing sentence of death upon the unhappy criminal Chase, in Cumberland, Md., last week, his feelings were so excited as almost to impede utterance. After passing sentence the judge arose, and with him the other members of the Court, the Bar, and the whole assembly, when he offered up to the Throne of Grace a most fervent prayer in behalf of the doomed and unfortunate man.

A new system of postage has been adopted in the British North American Colonies. Newspapers are charged half a penny postage to be paid by the receiver instead of being paid by the publisher. Letters are charged according to their weight at the rate of two pence the half ounce. Legislative proceedings and similar matter to be charged one penny for four ounces.

The Portland American, a strong loco paper, tells its readers that they must not be too sanguine of electing their candidate for the Presidency, and if they act under the insane idea that the "democracy" can walk over the course, whoever may be the candidate, Henry Clay will be the next President. Thus, hope for the whigs, peeps through the dark cloud of locofocoism, and should urge them on to the most vigorous efforts to elect the greatest statesman of the age—Harry of the West.

Information has been received in Boston of the loss, in the river St. Lawrence, of the British transport Premier, off Cape Chat. She had on board a regiment of British troops, numbering with their wives and children, 300, all of whom were saved, and found tolerable accommodations on shore.

Yesterday there was a cold rain and the weather was sufficiently uncomfortable. The rain however was greeted as a benefit to our business people since it took off the icy chill from our river and was calculated to give confidence to coasting vessels to approach the city and discharge their freights.

The Newark Daily Advertiser, referring to Mr. Webster's late speech at Andover, says in regard to his remaining in the Cabinet in 1841, "The intimation that he remained there with Mr. Clay's advice, is corroborated by a recent private letter from Ashland, to a friend in this vicinity."

The New York Tribune States that the packet ship Sheffield, recently ashore on the East Bank, has been got off, and towed to the city.

Boston Almanac.

By referring to our advertising columns it will be seen that Mr. Dickinson of Boston has in preparation and will soon publish the Boston Almanac has for several years received the unqualified approbation of the public, as not only one of the most comely articles of the kind that was ever published, but as of inestimable value on account of the variety of its information and the neat form in which the matter is arranged. The previous numbers have given the best picture of Boston, a city so full of interest, that can any where be found. The forth coming work will be in the best style of the art and worthy a generous support.

Hon. Thomas Corwin, late Governor of Ohio, has opened a law office in Cincinnati.

The Washington (Georgia) News of the 4th ult. says: "Mr. McDuffie assisted at a political discussion last week in Elbert county, when he was met by nine of the Georgia Whigs, in which, somewhat to the astonishment of the Democrats, he confessed that his opinions relative to the constitutionality of a United States Bank were unchanged, he still believed it to be constitutional. Though his health was very much improved, he contemplates returning from the United States Senate next year."

Captain Buchanan, of the U. S. ship Vincennes, at Pensacola, has been amusing himself, officers and crew, with a grand boat race—the particulars of which are published in the last Gazette. The prize was contended for by six boats; among them was Com. Dallas' celebrated whaleboat "May Byrd," steered by Lt. Mitchell, which beat Captain Buchanan's gig, steered by the Captain himself. The distance was one and a half miles, and was performed against a strong tide, by the whale boat, in eight minutes—beating Captain B.'s gig half a minute.

The Law Times, in answer to a correspondent who requests some advice as to his studies as an articled clerk, has the following pithy language: "Live like an hermit, work like a slave, learn every thing, read men as well as books, mangle in all business, shun all pleasure; for one hour you dedicate to reading give two to reflection three to observation. Deem no art nor science worthless; accustom yourself to act as well as to deliberate, to speak as well as to think, confirm reading by practice, and improve practice by reading; store your mind with all sorts of knowledge, you never know when it will be required, and even that which is not useful will always prove ornamental; for methods make your own, adopt those you find most apt; experience in this will be the best teacher; your own habits the best adviser. There is no royal road to knowledge, and but one golden rule—work! work! work!"

A correspondent of the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says, that when the bill for the suppression of secret societies was before the Canadian Parliaments, a furious scene ensued. Allan McNabb was taken in charge by the Sergeant-at-Arms for insulting the Speaker, and a mittimus was being made out to send him to prison, when a Mr. Prince convinced him he had done wrong, when he made an apology and the matter dropped.

Printers' Jollification.

The Printers, Binders and Booksellers of Concord N. H. and the number is legion, in accordance with an old custom, last week engaged in a hunting match, and finished off with a good supper and the accompaniment of wit, without wine, a good proof that temperance is regarded by the fraternity.

After the cloth was removed, the following officers were appointed to act upon the occasion: N. B. Baker, President; True Osgood, Frank S. West, Vice Presidents; John M. Hill, Secretary, and Newell J. McClure, Toastmaster.

The count of game was then declared by the President as follows:

Whole number of game bro't in,	7772
Capt. Morrill's side,	3337
Capt. Wilson's side,	3833
Excess of Morrill's side,	106

From a large number of toasts we clip the following:—

Our Revolutionary Fathers—They battered the head of the British Lion and gouged from John Bull the fattest piece in his copy drawer.

By Frank S. West—Concord Printers—The appearance of the table is proof conclusive that they are good at distributing pie.

Andrew Jackson—He squabbled various columns of old English at New Orleans, and, as a leader, always pointed the American soldier to victory and glory.

Col. R. M. Johnson—The Warrior and Statesman, a man of the people, and the poor man's friend. He bears upon his person the marks of the leaded articles of the enemy.

By B. F. Watson—British impressions of Yankee revolutionary valor. The imprint was given at Lexington; Bunker Hill was a first proof, Saratoga a revise, and Yorktown the final.

The subjoined hits were exchanged between two typos, the one a Democrat and the other a Whig:

By Samuel C. Hunt, Jr.—The Coon—Altho' a very influential politician in 1840, who caused the Whigs to waste their quoin, (coin,) and break the rules of decency, and very nearly guided them to the Devil, which acts we cannot justify, we will now forgive you, and heartily greet thee at our table.

By Frank S. West—The Fox—Notwithstanding he jumped many bars and made many doubts, and was finally knocked into pie in the grand chase of the Presidential squabble, yet we see he is again to be set up as the leader of the broken lines of Loco Focism: let the Whigs form a solid column, stand shoulder to shoulder, head off his doubtings by "rolling the balls" from a bank of CLAY, and with composure face his dying grin.

After singing "Auld lang syne" the company broke up, every one well satisfied with the printers', bookbinders' and booksellers' shooting match and supper.

Henry Clay.

The Raleigh Register says. "One thing especially recommends Henry Clay to the suffrage of the great body of yeomanry of the United States. He is one of them. Born in humble obscurity, he owes not his elevation to wealthy patrons or splendid family connections. Whatever he is, he is indebted for to that original greatness of mind, the gift of his Creator; to that principle of unwearied, patient and persevering industry, which no obstacle, however great, could turn back from its purpose, and to the discriminating judgment of his fellow citizens who best knew him, and who well appreciated those talents and that patriotism, on which a nation may safely rely."

Education.

The editor of the Nashville Banner in reviewing a literary address recently upon this subject by the Hon. R. D. Davis, of New York, thus beautifully and warmly expresses his dissent from one of Mr. Davis's arguments:

"Equally untenable, in our opinion, is this orator's main position that education has an inevitable tendency to run into exclusiveness and aristocracy. Had we the power which the great Scottish minister attributed to the whistle of Roderick Dhu, we could call up from many a lowly home in many a humble vale—from many a sequestered apartment in the retired and neglected quarters of great cities—witnesses enough to disprove this most shallow and most untrustful observation. We could gather thousands from huts as well as halls, conscious of manly faculties improved under the midnight oil in obedience to the impulses of a generous ambition—men of high aspiration, and yet of gentle temper, loving heart, of most modest and unobtrusive demeanor; and show that genuine and enlarged scholarship no where in this whole land blooms and flourishes more brightly and gloriously than around their simple and humble firesides, where no stiff haughtiness or aristocratic exclusiveness ever found countenance or place."

MARRIED.

In Saco, John Chadwick to Martha A. daughter of Edward S. Moulton, Esq.

In N. York, Kenney Couillard to Clara C. Cole, of Buckport Me. Nathaniel Ross, of Portland Me. to Martha Johnson.

DIED.

In Camden, 11th inst. Lucy, wife of Lewis Ogier, aged 83 years and 4-12 months. She has left 7 children, 54 grand children, and 25 great grand children; 5 children, 19 grand children, and 3 great grand children have "gone before" her. That house from whence no traveler returns! She has left to mourn her departure a husband aged 83 years, and with whom she has spent 61 years of married life.

Total number of their descendants, 110.

FARM FOR SALE.
THE subscriber offers for sale, that tract of land known as the Todd farm in the town of Chester. It is pleasantly situated on the river about four miles above Lincoln village and consists of about 85 acres mostly excellent tillage land, including eight or ten acres of intervalle. There is a small house upon it somewhat out of repair and a moderate sized barn. To an experienced and practical Farmer, who would improve it himself, this Farm would be highly valuable, as it will yield with suitable cultivation a large crop of Hay and Grain, which in that situation must always command a market at good prices. It will be sold on reasonable terms on application to me at Bangor.
